Letter from the President

Dear Fellow Members,

We had a very enjoyable day at the ACM at Folkestone, and with pleasant weather many of us managed a walk at lunchtime. It was a pity that so few of us were able to attend this year, hopefully next year it will not be quite so close to Easter.

I have to write my letter to you before our quiz night on Friday (to ensure I meet the deadline for the printer) so am keeping my fingers crossed that all goes well. One thing we can be assured of is that the food and company will be excellent.

I personally am looking forward to some better weather so that the garden can be tackled with a bit more enthusiasm on my part, mind you I am only the under-gardener these days.

Best wishes,

Ingrid Osborne – President

Did you know?

Some of our members have suggested a Sing-Along Club. There are no plans to form this at the present, but if you are interested, there is already a group formed that meet right here in All Saints Hall. There is a flyer posted on the wall outside the building with dates and more information.

Also, Tesco is now running a FREE service to help you set up and use your laptop computers, tablets, and even your Smartphones. This is a welcome service if you'd like some one-to-one help with your device. The hours are posted in the Tesco store, just next to the mobile phone section.
